Shopping

University Bookstore
For Emory paraphernalia, visit the bookstore in the Dobbs University Center.

Buckhead, Lenox Square & Phipps Plaza
For world class shopping twenty minutes from campus, visit Buckhead and these malls. From Emory’s main entrance, turn left on North Decatur Rd. At the second light, turn left on Clifton Rd. Clifton will dead-end at Briarcliff; turn right. Off Briarcliff, turn left on La Vista Rd. Turn right on Cheshire Bridge Rd. Note the street name will change to Lenox Rd once you have passed under Interstate 85. Continue on Lenox until you reach Peachtree Rd. Lenox Square is on the left, and Phipps Plaza is on the right once you cross Peachtree.

Little Five Points
A gathering spot for the young, the hip, the cool, and the pierced, L5P has many interesting restaurants and shops. From the main entrance, turn right on North Decatur Rd. At the second light, turn left on Briarcliff Rd. Briarcliff will change to Moreland Ave once you cross Ponce de Leon Ave. L5P will begin once you pass Mansfield Ave. It’s a ten minute drive from campus.

Virginia Highlands
Shops and restaurants are scattered along the length of Highland Ave; one may find a sizable clustering at the intersection with Virginia Ave. From Emory’s main entrance, turn right on North Decatur Rd. At the second light, turn left on Briarcliff Rd. When Briarcliff meets St. Charles, turn right. At the light, turn right on Highland Avenue. The neighborhood is less than ten minutes from campus.

Museums and Attractions

Michael C. Carlos Museum
This museum is located on the Emory University quadrangle. The building, designed by Michael Graves, contains a noted collection of Egyptian, Near Eastern, Classical, and American antiquities as well as art from Asia and Africa.

Fine Arts at Emory
The following are additional spaces at Emory used for fine arts exhibitions and performances. The Schwartz Center for Performing Arts provides space for Emory’s music, theater, and dance programs. The Schatten Gallery is located on level three of the Robert W. Woodruff Library. The Visual Arts Gallery, 700 Peavine Creek Drive, typically highlights the works of Emory students and faculty. Some theater productions use the Mary Gray Munroe Theater in the Dobbs University Center. Other performance spaces include the Burlington Road Building, Performing Arts Studio, Glenn Memorial Auditorium, and Cannon Chapel.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Around ATLANTA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Carter Center of Emory University &amp; Jimmy Carter Presidential Library 404-331-3942</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CNN Center &amp; Centennial Olympic Park 404-827-2300 (CNN)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fernbank Museum of Natural History 404-929-6300</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>High Museum of Art 404-733-4400</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Martin Luther King, Jr. Center &amp; Sweet Auburn 404-524-1956 (MLK)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Atlanta History Center & Swan House
404-814-4000

The house, grounds, and museum highlight the people and events in Atlanta’s fascinating history. From Emory’s main entrance, turn left on North Decatur Rd. At the second light, turn left on Clifton Rd. Clifton will dead-end at Briarcliff; turn right. Off Briarcliff, turn left on La Vista Rd. Turn right on Cheshire Bridge Rd. Note the street name will change to Lenox Rd. once you have passed under Interstate 85. Continue on Lenox Rd. for approximately 2 miles to Peachtree Rd., and turn left. Continue for another 2 miles, and turn right on Pharr Rd. Go straight through the 4-way stop. Turn right onto Slaton Drive. The Atlanta History Center is on the left.

Zoo Atlanta & Cyclorama
404-624-5600
(Zoo)
404-624-1071
(Cyclorama)

Zoo Atlanta is the city’s world-class animal park. Next door, the Cyclorama is home to the world’s largest painting, “The Battle of Atlanta.” The battle is relived daily with the help of spectacular music, art, and sound effects. From Emory’s main entrance, turn right on North Decatur Rd. At the second light, turn left on Briarcliff Rd. Briarcliff will change to Moreland Ave. once you cross Ponce de Leon Ave. At the second traffic light after Ponce de Leon, turn right on Freedom Parkway. At the second light, turn left, and follow signs toward I-75/85. When Freedom Pkwy meets Boulevard, turn left. Boulevard will eventually cross I-20. Proceed south on Boulevard another 1/2 mile to the first traffic light; turn right on Berne St., and follow the signs to the parking lot on Cherokee Ave.

Georgia Aquarium
(404) 581-4000

The Georgia Aquarium promises to be entertaining, intriguing, and educational for guests of all ages. While promoting a fun and entertaining learning experience, the Aquarium will instill in our guests a new appreciation for the world’s aquatic biodiversity. On a more global scale, the Georgia Aquarium will support, conduct and lead research on environmental and conservation issues.
Parks and Recreation

Lullwater Park
On Emory's campus, Lullwater's 185 acres include gardens, trails, a lake, and the President's home.

Atlanta Botanical Gardens
Landscaped gardens, a conservatory, and Atlanta's largest park are all located fifteen minutes from campus. From Emory's main entrance, turn right on North Decatur Rd. When North Decatur crosses Briarcliff, the street name 404-876-5859 (Gardens) will change to East Rock Springs. East Rock Springs will merge with Morningside Drive. Continue on Morningside Drive, and turn left on Piedmont Ave. At the second light, the gardens will be on the left. The park is on the left at 14th St.

Chattahoochee Nature Center
A beautiful preserve located along the Chattahoochee River which flows through metro-Atlanta. From Interstate-75 northbound, you will take exit 259, East I-285. Off I-285, take exit 25, Roswell Rd. At exit, turn left on Roswell Rd. At the first traffic light after crossing the Chattahoochee River, turn left onto Azalea Dr. At the second traffic light, turn left onto Willeo Rd. CNC is located one-half mile on the right. The center is about thirty minutes from Emory.

Chattahoochee River National Recreation Area
Beautiful natural preserves located along the Chattahoochee River which flows through metro-National Recreation Area Atlanta. From northbound GA 400, take exit 6 - Northridge Road. Coming off the exit, stay in the right lane, cross over GA 400, and turn right onto Dunwoody Place. Go one half mile to Roberts Drive; turn right; and proceed to the park entrance on your right.

Stone Mountain Park
Along with the world's largest piece of exposed granite, the park is 200 acres of lakes, woodlands, attractions, and recreational facilities for golf, tennis, swimming, boating, and hiking. From Emory's main entrance, turn left on North Decatur Rd. At Scott Blvd turn left, and follow signs to Stone Mountain Parkway, Highway 78. Off Hwy 78, follow signs to Stone Mountain Park. The park is approximately twenty-five minutes from Emory.